

OBITUARY: DR. ANJU L. SAIKIA

The medical fraternity of Assam deeply mourns the passing of Dr. Anju L. Saikia, an esteemed faculty member in the Department of Pharmacology, Jorhat Medical College, who served with distinction and dedication in the field of medical education in the state.

Dr. Anju .L. Saikia was known for her exemplary commitment to academic excellence and her sincere devotion to her profession. Throughout her career, she consistently demonstrated diligence, integrity, and a deep sense of responsibility toward her students and colleagues. Her teaching reflected not only her vast knowledge of Pharmacology but also her passion for nurturing the next generation of medical professionals.

She was admired and respected by her students and peers alike for her warm personality, approachable nature, and welcoming disposition. Dr. A.L. Saikia's professionalism was complemented by her kindness and empathy, qualities that earned her the affection and regard of all who worked with her.

Despite battling cancer during the final phase of her life, Dr. A.L. Saikia continued to display remarkable courage, optimism, and dedication. Her strength and positive outlook in the face of adversity made her an inspiration to all. She will be remembered as a symbol of perseverance and grace, whose unwavering spirit left an indelible mark on those around her.

Dr. Anju L. Saikia is survived by her husband, Dr. Hiteswar Saikia, who is also a faculty member at a Jorhat Medical College, and their two children. Her loss leaves a profound void in the academic and medical community, and her memory will continue to inspire her students and colleagues for years to come.

The North Eastern Medical Pharmacological Society (NEMPS), the Pharmacological fraternity of Assam along with the entire medical fraternity of Assam, conveys heartfelt condolences to her bereaved family and prays for the eternal peace of her noble soul.

May her soul rest in peace.

Dr. Sahid Aziz
Assistant Professor of Pharmacology
Jorhat Medical College, Assam